

Newborn Medical Contractual Liability Insurance Policy Declarations Page

This Policy provides limited contractual liability reimbursement indemnity and should not be considered basic hospital or major medical health insurance coverage. Unless otherwise agreed, this Policy shall be considered excess to any known or existing medical insurance. Indemnity hereon is only payable in excess of the Self-Insured Retention Amount.

IMPORTANT: THIS IS A CONTRACTUAL LIABILITY INSURANCE POLICY. THIS POLICY IS NOT HEALTH INSURANCE, IS NOT AN AFFORDABLE CARE ACT (“ACA”) PLAN, AND DOES NOT PROVIDE MINIMUM ESSENTIAL COVERAGE. THIS POLICY PROVIDES EXCESS COVERAGE ONLY AND RESPONDS SOLELY IN EXCESS OF THE INSURED INTENDED PARENT(S)’ ESSENTIAL HEALTH INSURANCE PLAN.

5. Eligibility:

For a Newborn to be eligible for coverage available under this Policy the Surrogate must meet the qualifications shown below and has executed a Contract with the Insured Intended Parents. All benefits and limits are stated per all Newborn(s) resulting from a single embryonic transfer. We maintain the right to investigate eligibility or records to verify that the eligibility requirements have been met. If We discover that the eligibility requirements have not been met, our only obligation is to refund premium.

Persons for whom coverage is prohibited under applicable law will not be considered eligible under this plan.

The Surrogate is required to meet the following criteria:

- Be between the ages of 20 – 40 at the date of transfer.
- Have a BMI of 33 or less.
- Have had at least one previous healthy birth; and
- No prior history of:
 - Preterm labor prior to week 37 gestation.
 - Pre-eclampsia or eclampsia
 - Placental abruption
 - Placenta previa
 - Miscarriage beyond 16 weeks gestation
 - Gestational diabetes requiring hospitalization
 - Diabetes
- The Surrogate can only have had a maximum of:
 - Three (3) Caesarean-sections prior to the applicable Contract;
 - Five (5) pregnancies prior to the applicable Contract; and/or
 - No deliveries within the last nine (9) months from date of application

Insured Intended Parent(s) understand and agree that the coverage applies to Newborn(s) resulting from a single embryonic transfer. they must enroll for the product prior to singleton embryo transfer. Intended pregnancies of twins or greater are not eligible for coverage. Insured Intended Parents understand and agree that if they do not enroll and deposit the Self-Insured Retention with our Administrator, and pay premium for the Policy at the set timeframes mentioned in the Premium section below that they will not be eligible for the Policy. Insured Intended Parent(s) must report successful embryo transfer the earlier of 6 months from enrolling in this coverage or 10 weeks from date of successful transfer, including the number of embryos.

6. Benefit Details:

This Insurance is to indemnify the Insured Intended Parent(s) up to the Limit of Liability stated in the Declarations for their liability assumed under Contract to pay medical expenses incurred related to the Newborn during the Coverage Period.

It is a condition precedent to coverage hereon that: (i) the Contract that is the subject of this insurance is confirmed in writing at the Effective Date and remains in force for the duration of the Coverage Period; (ii) All Medically Necessary Newborn related medical services are coordinated and Pre-Certified by the Administrator; (iii) Insured Intended Parent(s) also understand and agree that they must be actively enrolled in an Essential Health Insurance Plan that provides minimum essential coverage per the requirements of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act at the time of Childbirth and through the Coverage Period enumerated in the Declarations to be eligible for coverage; (iv) Insured Intended Parent(s) acknowledge, understand, and attest that this Policy is a contractual liability insurance product providing indemnity solely for the Insured Intended Parent(s)' contractual obligation to pay Newborn medical expenses, that this Policy operates as excess and secondary coverage to an Essential Health Insurance Plan compliant with the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, and that this Policy does not constitute health insurance, major medical coverage, or minimum essential coverage under federal or state law.

Self-Insured Retention Insured Intended Parent(s) understand and agree to be responsible for payment of the Self-Insured Retention as enumerated in the Declarations, which is intended to fund covered

Newborn medical expenses and must be exhausted before any Policy benefits are payable.

Upon receipt of a confirmation of successful transfer accepted by Us or the Administrator and as a warranty and condition for coverage hereon to be affected, the applicable Self-Insured Retention Amount, as stated below, must be deposited in full by the Insured Intended Parent(s) into a designated escrow trust account.
